Additional comments

#2) Although I believe taxes are too high at the present time, I do believe that the children are our future and deserve all we can give them. Our legislators stated that no teachers or teachers assistants positions were cut in the new budget, the discretionary spending cuts that were mandated caused school systems to make major changes. The only way to cut the school systems budgets was to reduce staff; however, if all school employees except teachers and their assistants were dismissed, there would still not have been enough dollars cut from the budget. That being the case, I do agree with a ¾ cent increase (at least until other areas have been cut enough to eliminate said increase).

#3) Whichever party is in control when the lines are rewritten makes sure the lines are drawn to maximize their parties victories. I believe a nonpartisan committee should be the ones to update the district maps so that the constituents will be best taken care of.

#6) I believe there should be a Constitutional amendment stating that Marriage is between only one man and one woman; however, I believe everyone has the right to love whomever they choose and should be allowed to have a civil union.

#8) While I believe wholeheartedly in capital punishment, I do not agree with all the money spent allowing criminals to have repeated appeals.

#23 & 32) It looks as though I am contradicting myself with my answers here, but sometimes simple “agree and disagree” answers do not suffice. I believe in offering tax credits and subsidies to bring new business to the state, but only to a certain point – after a short period of time the credits and subsidies should end and those companies should be taxed just like all other companies.
