25. State health insurance mandates are state laws that require all health insurance plans offered in the state to cover certain procedures and conditions. Which statement best reflects your views when it comes to health insurance mandates: (ROTATE)

49% State government should not dictate to health insurance companies what must be covered in all policies. Instead, insurance providers should be free to offer different coverages in a variety of plans and allow consumers to choose what best suits their needs.

41% State health insurance mandates are necessary and should be implemented so that health insurance companies will cover drugs, procedures, and conditions that they may not otherwise cover because they are too expensive.
